Thomas Borst decides to leave ebm-papst
"Just the right time to leave"

Mulfingen,
After 18 very successful years as Managing Director Sales and Marketing of the ebm-papst Group, Thomas Borst is retiring from his active role, as of June 30, 2018. Thomas Borst: "I place the upcoming changes in the hands of the future management team!"

On his initiative, the ebm-papst brand was developed, enabling the successful strategic positioning in the global markets. Under his leadership of the worldwide sales organization, the turnover of the ebm-papst Group has more than tripled from €600 million to over €2 billion. Shareholders and the advisory board would like to thank Thomas Borst for his decades of commitment and wish him all the best for his personal future.

Stefan Brandl, CEO of the ebm-papst Group, will take over as Head of Sales and Marketing. "I would like to express my sincere thanks to Thomas Borst for the trusting cooperation over the many years together and wish him the best of luck with everything he has planned", says Brandl.

In future, the group management at ebm-papst will consist of the four members Stefan Brandl (Chairman/CEO), Thomas Wagner (Production/COO), Hans Peter Fuchs (Finance and Controlling/CFO) and Dr. Stephan Arnold (Research, Development and Materials Management/CTO).

In line with the "Structure 2020", an international management board was created, connecting the managing directors from Landshut, St. Georgen, the USA and China with the ebm-papst Group management based in Germany.

Launched by Stefan Brandl in early 2017, “Structure 2020” aims to strengthen ebm-papst’s three core locations headquartered in North America, Asia and Europe (Germany). The objective is to organize the company more internationally and according to the principle "local for local", while at the same time interlinking the subsidiaries more closely with top management in Germany.
